

From the South West

From the M5, take junction 23. Follow the signs for Glastonbury/Wells.

Take the A37 from Wells sign posted to Bristol, through Chewton Mendip and Farrington Gurney.

Once in Farrington Gurney take the right hand turning (A39) towards Bath. Stay on this road through Hallatrow and High Littleton into open countryside, passing a cafe and car forecourt on your right after leaving High Littleton.

Continue on this road until Alan Motors then Farmborough Tyres are on your right, start indicating and take the right turning immediately after this garage, sign posted towards Timsbury.

After the Butchers Arms pub on the right and a row of local authority houses on a bank up on your left, slow down and indicate left.

The entrance to Tilley Farm is past a paddock and immediately after a large silage clamp made from railway sleepers on the left.

Enter through large double wooden gates. Parking is on the left after the clamp.
